

Maximizing the Impact of Area Directors' Club Visit Reports

Are you an Area Director looking to sharpen your leadership skills and make a real impact on your clubs? Join us for an interactive training session where you'll learn how to transform your club visit reports into powerful tools for driving club success and supporting district goals. This comprehensive session will cover:

- The importance of club visit reports and their role in improving club quality and performance.
- A breakdown of the key components of an effective report, with tips on what to look for during your visits.
- Best practices for preparing, conducting, and following up on club visits to foster engagement and growth.
- Solutions to common challenges Area Directors face, and how to overcome them with confidence.
- How club visit reports directly contribute to achieving Distinguished Club Program (DCP) goals.

By the end of this session, you'll have actionable insights and strategies to elevate your club visit reports, foster stronger relationships, and help your clubs thrive. Don't miss this opportunity to enhance your leadership and drive lasting results in your district!

Landon Alchikh is a multifaceted leader, Marine veteran, personal fitness trainer, and CEO of SchizoPhrenia Care Project. A distinguished author of seven books, including the thought-provoking Am I Worthy, he explores themes of self-worth and personal growth through storytelling. Since joining Toastmasters in July 2018, Landon has not only honed his public speaking and leadership skills but also found confidence in being heard and understood, following a decade of personal development after overcoming sexual trauma. He has served in every club officer role, competed three times in the International Speech Contest, and held leadership positions as an Area Director, Southern Division and Western Division Director, Club Coach, Mentor and Sponsor, and Distinguished Toastmaster. As one of the District's Pathways guru and a mentor to many, Landon exemplifies the phrase "you get out of it what you put into it," and "lead by example." His favorite aspect of Toastmasters, beyond the incredible networking, is the opportunity to continuously develop communication and leadership skills in a supportive environment. Through his work as a speaker, author, and educator, he inspires others to embrace their inherent value and reach their fullest potential.
